ABSTRACT

This 1997 edition focuses on statistical data supplied by Michigan public libraries, public library cooperatives, and those public libraries which serve as regional or subregional outlets for blind and physically handicapped patrons. Statistics on academic libraries are also presented in this edition, and summary statistics for prior fiscal years are included for some data elements. This edition also includes lists of libraries participating in MichiCard, non-resident fees charged, types of automation systems used by libraries, and detail on the technology maintained at each library. The statistical tables itemize patrons, hours and staff; sources of operating income; types of expenditures; library collections; and circulation, reference transactions, and interlibrary loan services. Statistics for automation trends, such as the presence and use of online public access catalogs, fax document delivery, full-text databases, dial access to library catalogs, and microcomputers for public use, are also outlined. Introduction

The 1997 edition of the Michigan Library Statistical Report presents data provided by public libraries, public library cooperatives, and those public libraries which serve as regional or subregional outlets to provide services for blind and physically handicapped patrons. The reporting year for the public libraries is the most recent fiscal year completed by each library prior to October 1, 1996. Summary statistics for prior fiscal years are also included for some data elements, and may be useful for comparison. The technology section reflects each library's data at the technology reporting date identified in the reports.

Definitions for data elements, as presented in the glossary, are based on the Federal State Cooperative System for Public Library Data (FSCS) of the U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics. By using this national system and its definitions of terms, Michigan's data is comparable with that of the other 49 states and the District of Columbia. Of course, caution should be used in comparing any one library with national or state averages.

All 385 legally established public libraries in the state of Michigan were invited to respond to the Annual Report. Data was collected as part of the State Aid Application. The 382 libraries that responded are included in the report. Three legally established libraries did not report any data and are included only in the public library index section. Library systems were asked to report data that includes their main and branch libraries. The calculated total for "Population of Library Service Area" exceeds the state's total population because more than one public library may count the same population. For example, a district library may share part of another library's service area by virtue of having a participating municipality, such as a school district, with geographic boundaries extending into the adjoining library's service area. Statewide totals, averages, and per capita were calculated based on the actual total state unduplicated population.

The publication includes a public library index which identifies basic information for each library including the class size under which library data is reported. This edition of the publication also includes lists of libraries participating in MichiCard, non-resident fees charged, types of automation systems used by libraries, and detail on the technology maintained at each library.

Data is also presented from the 1996 academics libraries survey, compiled from forms distributed by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Definitions for these data elements, as presented in the glossary, are based on the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS-L). All postsecondary libraries in the state were invited to participate. The 98 libraries that responded are included in this report.

To make the publication more readable, a blank indicates that the library reported "0", "none", or did not report. Data was accepted as reported. In some cases, libraries have been contacted to clarify responses. There was no imputation for public libraries that did not respond or for items left blank. Thus, unless the response rate to a data element was 100 percent, totals in the tables are probably underestimates. The effect of nonresponse on averages is less predictable since bias in averages depends on the distribution of nonresponding public libraries to the specific data element.

Library data can be used by librarians, trustees, and local government officials in a variety of ways to support local long-range planning efforts, the local budget process, evaluation, and in general, for informed decision-making. Users of this information should note that libraries, even those of similar size, have varying funding and service patterns, and that a single data element does not present the entire picture. All data must be interpreted in an appropriate context and in terms of the library's overall service program. Statistical data can only suggest patterns and indicate areas which may need improvement or special attention by the local decision-makers. Thank you to all public and academic libraries, and public library cooperatives for the accurate reporting of these statistics. We want to make this report as complete and useful as possible. If you have any comments or suggestions, we would like to hear from you. Please direct your comments to Denise Sachau at the Library of Michigan,

Operating Income Per Capita

(1992-1996)

Operating income per capita relates total library income to the population served by the public libraries. This statistic reflects the library's financial support in relation to population. Libraries in communities with a lower state equalized valuation might require higher library millage votes in order to generate a satisfactory level of income. The statistic is determined by dividing the total operating income reported by public libraries by the state's population.

Operating Expenditures Per Capita

(1992-1996)

Operating expenditures per capita relates library expenditures to the population served and is determined by dividing the total operating expenditures by the state's population.

Penal Fine Income Patterns
(1992-1996)

In Michigan, fines collected from offenders for violation of state penal laws are collected by the courts and sent to the county treasurer. The penal fines are disbursed to the public libraries on a per capita basis either annually or on a payment schedule adjusted by the county treasurer and the libraries in the county.

Academic Library Glossary

Data Element	Definitions
Audiovisual Collection Expenditures	Expenditures for all library materials that are displayed by visual projection or magnification or through sound reproduction, or both, including graphic materials, audio materials, motion pictures, video materials, and special visual materials such as three-dimensional materials. Includes current serials.
Bibliographic Utilities, Networks and Consortia Expenditures	Expenditures for services provided by national, regional, and local bibliographic utilities, networks, and consortia.
Books and Print Materials Collection Expenditures	Expenditures for all materials consisting primarily of words and usually produced by making an impression with ink on paper. Included in this category are materials that do not require magnification: books, government documents, braille materials, ephemeral print materials, and the like. Excludes current serial subscriptions and microforms.
Books/Print Materials Collection	Books, serial backfiles, and government documents that are accessible through the library's catalog. Includes bound periodicals and newspapers and excludes microforms.
Cartographic Materials Collection	Number of units of materials representing in whole or in part the earth or any celestial body at any scale. These materials include two- and three-dimensional maps and globes. Includes government documents.
Circulation Transactions Per Student	Calculated as Total Circulation divided by Student Enrollment.
Collections Added During Fiscal Year 1996	Gross number of each collection category added. Does not subtract the number withdrawn.
Collections Held at Fiscal Year-End 1996	Total number of each collection category held at end of fiscal year.
Computer Files and Search Services Expenditures	Expenditures for materials considered part of the collection, whether purchased or leased, such as CD-ROMs, magnetic tapes, and magnetic disks, that are designed to be processed by a computer or similar machine. Examples are U.S. Census data tapes, locally-mounted databases, electronic journals, and reference tools on CD-ROM, tape, or disk. Includes current serials. Includes expenditures for online searches of remote databases. Includes expenditures for equipment when the cost is inseparably bundled into the price of the information service product. Excludes expenses for library system software and microcomputer software used only by the library staff.
Computer Files Collection	Number of units and titles of materials such as CD-ROMs, magnetic tapes and magnetic disks, that are designed to be processed by a computer or similar machine. Examples are U.S. Census data tapes, locally-mounted databases, electronic journals, and reference tools on CD-ROM, tape, or floppy disk. Excludes bibliographic records used to manage the collection, library system software, and microcomputer software used only by the library staff. Includes current serials and includes government documents. If a CD-ROM subscription for a title is contained on one disc that is updated (i.e., replaced) once a month, counts as one unit, not twelve.
Computer Hardware and Software Expenditures	Expenditures from the library budget for computer hardware and software used to support library operations, whether purchased or leased, mainframe or microcomputer. Includes expenditures for maintenance. Includes expenditures for equipment used to run information service products when that expenditure can be separated from the price of the product.
Contributed Staff	Total Full-Time Equivalents (FTEs) of staff such as members of religious orders, whose services are valued by bookkeeping entries rather than by full cash transactions. Does not include volunteers.
Current Serials Collection	Total number of current serials received including those that are paid for and those received without payment. Includes periodicals, newspapers, and government documents issued serially. Excludes microforms, audiovisual materials, and machine-readable materials.

Current Serials Collection Expenditures	Expenditures for current subscriptions to serials. These are publications issued in successive parts, usually at regular intervals, and, as a rule, intended to be continued indefinitely. Serials include periodicals, newspapers, annuals (reports, yearbooks, etc.), memoirs, proceedings, and transactions of societies. Excludes expenditures for microforms, audiovisual materials, and machine-readable materials.
Document Delivery/Interlibrary Loan Collection Expenditures	Expenditures for document delivery and interlibrary loan services. Includes fees paid for photocopies, costs of telefacsimile transmission, royalties and access fees paid to provide document delivery or interlibrary loan. Includes fees paid to biblio graphic utilities if the portion paid for interlibrary loan can be separately counted. Does not include expenditures related to transactions between the main or central library and other libraries reported by the entity, between branches, or for on campus delivery.
